Schedule Highlights Announced for
MAKE MUSIC CHICAGO
A Day of Free Music throughout Chicagoland

Day Ends with a Massive Group Performance of “Sweet Home Chicago” followed by Redmoon Theater’s Spectacular “Celebration Vehicle” combining DJ, Opera Singer and Fire!

Summer Solstice: Thursday, June 21, 2012

CHICAGO – June 7, 2012 – Make Music Chicago, the completely free, one-day music festival presented by Rush Hour Concerts, announces a schedule of highlighted events for the second annual music celebration on the first day of summer, Thursday, June 21. Currently over 800 musicians are signed up to perform throughout the day at 75 different sites. Make Music Chicago is free to both audiences and musicians alike and no tickets are required for any of the events.

98.7WFMT devotes its entire day of broadcasting on June 21 to Make Music Chicago, an unprecedented event for Chicago’s only classical music radio station. 98.7WFMT broadcasts live at select sites throughout the day and, in between concerts, uses roving reporters to check in on happenings at venues all across the city.

9 – 9:15 PM
Redmoon Theater’s “Celebration Vehicle”
Site: St. James Cathedral, 65 E. Huron St. (outside)
- A dramatic coda to the day’s festivities, Redmoon Theater presents a spectacular performance of The Celebration Vehicle, a mobile opera-fire concert built onto a Mazda Rx-7 chassis and featuring a “fire organ,” DJ station, huge gramophone horn on a hydraulic lift, and an opera singer perched on an elevated platform. Synchronized to the musical stylings of a live DJ and an opera singer, the “fire organ” shoots columns of fire twenty feet into the air.

All programs are subject to change.

About Make Music Chicago
Make Music Chicago celebrates the ability of everyone to make music as people of all ages, musical genres and ability levels (from amateurs to marquee artists) all gather throughout the day in Chicago’s public spaces to engage in music-making.

In its inaugural year in 2011, over 10,000 people experienced live music at 35 sites all over the city; in 2012, Make Music Chicago’s “spontaneous musical combustion” will spread across the city to over 75 sites. Performance sites in 2012 extend beyond Chicago proper, reaching along the North Shore up to Lake Bluff, south to Chinatown and Hyde Park and west to Austin. Musicians, bands and ensembles perform in a diverse array of styles and genres, including blues, classical, electronica, folk, hip-hop, jazz, pop, R&B, rock, world music and more.

Make Music Chicago is inspired by France’s “Fête de la Musique,” a national musical holiday marking its 31st year in 2012. Since 1982, “Fête de la Musique” has become an international phenomenon, taking place on June 21 in more than 460 cities in 110 countries, including Germany, Italy, Egypt, Syria, Morocco, Australia, Vietnam, Congo, Cameroon, Fiji, Colombia, Chile, Nepal and Japan. Make Music Chicago is part of a national group of “Make Music” cities that includes New York, Los Angeles, Denver and Baltimore.

Make Music Chicago is presented by Rush Hour Concerts, with lead sponsor Comcast, supporting sponsor Tishman Speyer and exclusive print sponsor Time Out Chicago Kids. Over fifty arts, cultural and educational partners across the city are participating, including 98.7WFMT, the Chicago Loop Alliance, the Chicago Park District, the Chinatown Chamber of Commerce, Music Institute of Chicago, Navy Pier and St. James Cathedral.

About Rush Hour Concerts
Rush Hour Concerts’ mission is to provide the broadest access to great live music-making throughout Chicago in ways which are relevant to contemporary lifestyles, aesthetically nourishing, and foster a sense of community. Rush Hour Concerts is committed to free arts programs for families and communities of all types and is rooted in the core belief that no matter what one’s age, ability or background, anyone can make music.

Its free programs include a weekly Summer Series at St. James Cathedral, featuring world-class musicians from Chicago and around the country, every Tuesday evening, June 5 – August 28, at 5:45 pm; Make Music Chicago, an annual daylong music festival on June 21 for all ages, levels, and musical genres; a family concert series; and, Community Engagement Pilot Programs in the Back of the Yards and Garfield Park neighborhoods.
